WASATCH PEAKS RANCH

WASATCH PEAKS RANCH

Stretching eleven miles along the ridge of Utah's Wasatch Mountains lies 20 square miles of the most spectacularly pristine recreational alpine property in the US. Consisting of approximately 12,740 acres, the Wasatch Peaks Ranch is unmatched in location, just 35 minutes from Salt Lake City and its international airport. Offering private skiing, this well-preserved alpine environment includes 400 inches of annual snowfall and one of the longest heli-ski runs in the U.S. (4,600 vertical). The ranch controls a continuous ridgeline comprising 24 peaks and 15 bowls on the property and adjoining National Forest lands. Recreational options abound with fly-fishing along 1.75 miles of the Weber River, big game trophy hunting, hiking, mountain biking, horseback riding and other recreational pursuits on over 80 miles of trails and unlimited access to the bordering forest. Rising from 4,820 feet to 9,570 feet at the ridgeline, the property has numerous ponds, creeks, meadows, hillsides and draws. Enjoy your own private sanctuary, exclusive mountain club, or consider the incredible development potential. Just 15 minutes to downtown Ogden, 10 minutes to Snowbasin Resort, and 45 minutes to Park City, the Wasatch Peaks Ranch offers an unrivaled investment opportunity in an ideal location.

LEAVING YOUR LEGACY

Co-owned by the Bass and Holding families, the late Richard Bass, founder of Snowbird Ski Resort said Wasatch Peaks Ranch has “all of the attributes of Snowbird with the vital plus of being privately owned...and only 35 minutes from Salt Lake City and its international airport.”

LARGE IN SIZE

At its widest point, Wasatch Peak Ranch runs four miles wide. Elevations range from 4,820 feet near the Weber River to 9,570 above the Peterson Cirque. The majority of the ranch's developable property lies between 5,500 and 7,000 feet. 11 creeks weave their way for 35 miles through the ranch from high mountain peaks to the Weber River below.

Situated in the Morgan Valley, the adjoining towns include Mountain Green and Peterson which provide basic services. Shopping, hospitals and fine dining in Ogden and other Wasatch front communities are just 15 minutes away. The Morgan Valley is primarily an agricultural based area with approximately over 50% of the land designated as farms and ranches. This once protected valley with its ideal climate and pristine landscapes is now highly sought after due to its proximity and quality of life in Salt Lake City.

Wasatch Peaks Ranch lies in the heart of the Rocky Mountain West, so the climate is ideal. On average, 226 sunny days are recorded in Morgan County with average highs running from 35 degrees in January to 88 degrees in July. Average annual snowfall for the upper portion of the ranch is 400 inches.

MORE SKIABLE TERRAIN THAN MOST RESORTS

Wasatch Peaks Ranch offers incredible private alpine terrain and exclusive access to adjoining public lands for helicopter, backcountry, cross country, and snowcat alpine skiing. Combined with the adjoining National Forest lands, the available alpine terrain includes 15 bowls and cirques with a vertical drop of up to 4,600 feet. Owners estimate 5,500 acres of skiable terrain – larger than most of the ski & snowboard resorts in North America. In addition to the skiing on the ranch, Snowbasin Resort is located minutes away and was home to the 2002 Winter Olympic Games.

PRIVATE FISHING

Over 1.75 miles of the Weber River flows through the property offering private fly-fishing for native Cutthroat, Brown and Rainbow Trout. The ranch with its 11 creeks, streams and water rights has the capacity for numerous additional lakes and ponds for fishing as well as other recreational pursuits.

Wasatch Peaks Ranch offers excellent big game, turkey and grouse hunting opportunities, participates in Utah's Cooperative Wildlife Management Unit (CWMU) program. CWMU's are hunt areas consisting of mostly private land that have been authorized for the specific purpose of managing and hunting certain big game species. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources recognizes the contribution made by private landowners in providing big game habitat on their private lands and provides incentives to maintaining this habitat rather than developing it. Landowners receive an allocation of permits that can be assigned to private hunters so long as a certain percentage of permits are issued to the public. The ranch is within the Jacob's Creek Unit and currently receives the following permits for the hunt season: 18 buck deer, nine bull elk and one bull moose. In addition to big game, there are turkey and blue grouse on the property. The owners currently lease out the hunting to a local outfitter and guide. Additional details can be provided to qualified buyers.

LAND USE

Currently zoned for one residential dwelling per 160 acres, the ranch is also considered a candidate as a master planned development (MPD) under Morgan County's Forestry and Multiple Use zoning with an option for inclusion under the Resort Special District (RSD) ordinance. There are 5,000 prime developable acres offering mild terrain close to highway exits and infrastructure.

Eleven streams weave their way through the ranch for over 35 miles. The owners have an option to acquire 2,500 acre feet of water from the Weber Basin Water Conservancy District to be used for culinary, development, landscaping, irrigation and snowmaking uses. Qualified buyers will be presented with further details.

WATER RESOURCES

ADJOINS NATIONAL FOREST

The adjoining lands are within the 1.3 million acre Uinta-Wasatch-Cache National Forest. The Forest lands that directly adjoin Wasatch Peaks Ranch are managed with an emphasis in meeting multiple resource objectives while maintaining ecosystem integrity. Uses include grazing, timber management, new recreation development, trail construction, and heli-skiing.
